Burglary.—The house of D. C. List, jr., was burglarized on Wedneeday night; probably about one or two o'clock. The parties entered the yard at a gate in the alley between Mr. List's house and Pracht's bakery. They then, with a jimmey, pried up the window at the rear of the partier and passed into the house. The burglars left their tracks through all the lower portion of the dwelling, but did not venture up stairs. They carried off an overcost, a lot of silver spoons and some other articles of silver ware, the total value of which was perhaps about fifty dollars. A small basket packed full of sundry articles was left sitting on the floor near the window, indicating that the parties had departed hastily, which was no doubt the case, as Mr. List was up about the hour above mentioned to attend to a sick child. The town seems to have had a considerable accession of surpicious characters lately, and citizens have need to be on the lookout for night visitors. Mr. List consoles himself with the reflection that if the burglars who ramsacked his premises nimed! with the reflection that it to burglars who ramsacked his premises have the discrimination of their class, they were got long in perceiving that his noure was not a bonanza and that they will not bother him again. HAVERLY'S MINSTREIA.—As a matter of course Corinthian Hall was crowded last evening by the many admirers of Haverly's minstrels, and as naual the entertainment more than fulfilled the expectations of the audience. It has long been admitted that this troupe is the very best now traveling. The name of Haverly that appears at the head is iamiliar lawherever minstrelsy is known. Certainly this company is without superiors in their respective lines, and the enthusiantic reception they received last evening shows that their merits are well appreciated by the people. It seems hardly necessary to state that the performance was first-class in every respect, and that the aupitance was nulmitted. Poer Mortem Examistaton.—On Wednesday afternoon Drs. Halley McCoy, Tom O. Edwards, J. H. Pipes, J. W. McCoy and J. W. Reeves held a post morten upon the body of Geo. W. Johnson, who died at his residence, No. 2319 Market Street, on Monday, of the disease known as nailer's consumption. Mr. Johnson was forty-six years old, and had worked in a nail factory for twenty-five years. Effore his death he gave his consent to a postmorten, as the disease from which he was suffering is entirely unknown in many localities, and it was hoped that information copid be obtained which would enable the medical authorities to prescribe remedies which may in future relieve, if not entirely cure, the complaint. The physicans in attendance expressed themselves as highly satisfied with the result of the post mortem.

Upon opening the body they found extensive adhasions of both lungs to the walls of the chest, and so firm that it was difficult to get the lungs out. Near the summit of the left lung was a cavern the size of a large hen's egg, filled with pus and iron and stone dust. NARROW ESCAPE.—A party of men who were at work yesterday morning, cutting ice in the creek near Stamm's place, out the National Road, had a narrow escape from drowing by the breaking up of the ice. When the creek commenced running out it broke so rapidly that four of the workmen were unable to get to the shore, and almost in a moment found themselves floundering in the water. PATRONS of a first-class hotel justly consider themselves entitled to comfortable rooms, a bountiful bill of fare, and courteous treatment in the office. All these, combined with a notable degree of elegance throughout, are to be found at the Colonnade Hotel, Philadelphia, Pa.

A GENTLE HINE.—In our style of climate, with its sudden changes of temperature—rain, wind and sunshine often intermingled in a single day—it is no wonder that our children, friends and relatives are so frequently taken from us by neglected colds, half the deaths resulting directly from this cause. A bottle of Boschee's German Syrup kept about your home for immediate use will prevent serious sickness, a large doctor's bill, and perhaps death, by the use of three or four doses. For curing Consumption, Hemorrhages, Pneumonia, Severe Coughs, doses. For curing Consumption, Hemorrages, Pneumonia, Severe Coughs, Croup or any disease of the Throat or Lungs, its success is simply wonderful as your druggist will tell you. German Syrup is now sold in every town and village on this continent. Sample bottles for trial, 10c; regular size, 75c. eodaw.
